

This preparatory book is meant to be a necessary companion to the Elemental Mixology Tipples book. It contains liquor stewardry information, and space to keep your liquor tasting diary. This book also contains recipes for syrups, and instructions for various custom ingredients, and house blends. It contains procurement information for fruit and fabrication and handling information for one of the most vital ingredients in the mixing of drinks: ice. It is advised that the Preparatory book be at least perused before using the Tipples book, and to keep it ready after that.
